Mat Method Course Description:
Using the eight principles developed by Joseph Pilates, we will learn to stabilize shoulder joints, hip joints, the pelvis, scapula, and ribcage while strengthening the lower buttocks, pelvic floor, and lower abdominals. Exercises will be done on the mat: prone, supine, and side lying, using the breath. Proper alignment will be emphasized. Smaller, deeper, muscle groups of the body will be addressed, thus strengthening and lengthening from the inside out. We will work hard, with moderation and balance. The effects of the mat method are subtle and take time to develop. The rewards will be worth the effort invested! You may notice you feel energized, calm and relaxed after your work out. You will be challenged to acknowledge your own individual limitations. Use the variation best suited to your level of development, and practice a willingness to release the exercise when reaching your intensity horizon.

Journal: at least 8 entries in a blue book – 40 points. Pick one class each week, date it and follow this format: #1 Describe how you feel before class. #2 make a stick figure drawing of a specific exercise, prone, supine, or side lying. List the body alignment, and describe your experience with the exercise. #3 Describe how you feel after the class. In your last entry also answer these questions: Are you developing an appreciation for Pilates? Why or Why not? As one entry copy into your journal the eight principles developed by Joseph Pilates. The journal will help the instructor to assess your learning process.
