This syllabus is subject to change.

- The assignment syllabus is a tentative schedule of assignments. Any changes will be announced in class.
- Students who miss class must check the syllabus to ensure they are prepared for the next class period or email the instructor.
- All assignments must be read by the date indicated and students are expected to bring the texts we are discussing for the day to class.
- As this is a participation-based course DUE DATES ARE NOT FLEXIBLE
- The following texts are required:

  The Making of a Story
  by Alice LaPlante
  A Poet’s Companion
  by Kim Addonizio and Dorianne Laux
  Personal Writing Journal

Course Description: Human beings exist in a creative space. We tell stories every day of our lives. Exploration is key to our understanding of our world and something that we constantly use. Finding the momentary beauty and meaning in the ordinary is what propels art and imagination. This class will be structured so that students can use their observations and experiences to learn the craft of creative writing. This course will be an exploration of Fiction, Poetry, & Creative Nonfiction. In a discussion-based workshop setting, students will read example texts, as well as write and revise in each genre focusing on developing their own voice, imagination and styles of storytelling.

Course Assignments for Workshop:
- One Short Story 6-8 pages
- One packet of 6-8 poems
- One Personal Essay 6-8 pages
- Reading responses for assigned reading
- Supplemental Assignments
- Workshop Critiques for peers due on Workshop days
- One Revision due as a Final Project at the end of the semester

Attendance policy:
This is a workshop based course and requires participation and involvement of each student. It is imperative that you prioritize attendance and attention to the work of your peers.

☐ Excused absences include documented hospitalization or other documented unexpected extreme emergencies; if excessive absenteeism that falls under the purview of “excused absences” continues, I reserve the right to drop students from the course. Please note: doctor’s appointments, child-care, court dates, and job scheduling conflicts do not count as excused absences.

☐ Students absent for more than 3 classes will be dropped from the class.

Required Work and Grading:
All formal writing assignments must follow MLA format and be typewritten, double-spaced in a 12pt, Times New Roman font. No exceptions.

*Grades are subject to change based on how many students are enrolled. I will update as needed.
Total points will remain--1000

3 Major Writing Assignment 600 pts
Workshop Critiques (5 each) 100 pts
25 Reading Responses (5 pts each) 100 pts
10 Weekly assignments (10 each) 100 pts
Final Revision 100 pts
Total Possible Points 1000 pts
Possible Extra Credit +30 pts

Grades will be determined on a traditional percentage system, with the appropriate plus or minus sign: 100-90%= A; 89-80%=B; 79-73%=C; 69-60=D; and below=F. You need a “C” or a 73% to pass this course.

Email Netiquette Policy:
Please keep the following in mind when you write emails:
* Please avoid text-speak. Learning to write professional emails early on is a skill you need as you progress to higher academic levels and career pursuits.
* Emails that you write to me during the semester should include professional language, addressed with a subject heading including the type of question you are asking.
* Emails should also include a salutation. For example, “Dear Professor Macaron” or “Hello Professor” would be an appropriate salutation; in a formal setting like a college course, professional titles are appreciated. “Dear Kristian,” informally, is also acceptable.
* Please close with an appropriate phrase and sign your email with your name. Some examples of appropriate phrases are “Sincerely,” or “Thank you for your help,”.
* Use short paragraphs (in general, 3-4 lines maximum) to make the email easy to read. In addition, be sure to skip lines between paragraphs.
* Be sure to proofread your email for grammatical errors.

Equal Access:
Accessibility Services located in Student Services provides academic support to students who have disabilities. If students think they need alternative formats for completing coursework, they should contact this service right away to ensure their needs are met in a timely manner. Students are responsible for getting all documented forms to me as soon as possible. I cannot accommodate any special needs without the proper authorization from UNM Valencia Campus Accessibility Services. Pursuant to the American with Disabilities Act (ADA), I accommodate documented special needs and encourage students to discuss their concerns with me.

They are located in Advisement & Counseling Services Student Services Building, 280 La Entrada Rd., Los Lunas, NM 87031, 505-925-8560.

Plagiarism:
Plagiarism means using language and/or ideas without acknowledging their source. Plagiarism includes such activities as copying another student’s papers or ideas, downloading and turning in papers from the internet, or copying passages from sources without proper documentation, or rephrasing an author’s ideas and presenting them as the student’s new, original thoughts.
Plagiarism in this course may result in one or more of the following consequences: failure of the assignment, failure of the course, or disciplinary actions by the University. To learn how to avoid plagiarism, students can speak to me, consult a tutor, or refer to http://library.acadiau.ca/tutorials/plagiarism/.
