COURSE DESCRIPTION

The primary objective of this course is to serve as a survey of the history of Latin America from pre-Columbian times through independence. This course will explore the contributions of Indigenous peoples, Africans, and Europeans to the creation of Latin America's diverse societies. The elements of this course are designed to inform students on the major events and trends that are essential to the understanding of the history of Latin America within the context of world societies.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of this course, students will be able to:

1. Students will be able to EXPLAIN in their work how humans in the past shaped their own unique historical moments and were shaped by those moments, and how those cultures changed over the course of the centuries for the history of Latin America from pre-Columbian times through independence.
2. Students will DISTINGUISH between primary and secondary sources, IDENTIFY and EVALUATE evidence and EMPATHIZE with people in their historical context.
3. Students will SUMMARIZE and APPRAISE different historical interpretations and evidence in order to CONSTRUCT past events.

4. Students will IDENTIFY historical arguments in a variety of sources and EXPLAIN how they were constructed, EVALUATING credibility, perspective, and relevance.
5. Students will CREATE well-supported historical arguments and narratives that demonstrate an awareness of audience.
6. Students will APPLY historical knowledge and historical thinking “in order to infer what drives and motivates human behavior in both past and present.”

Essential Skills: Critical Thinking, Information and Digital Literacy, Personal and Social Responsibility

CONSULTING YOUR INSTRUCTOR

My goal is to assist you in developing a meaningful understanding of history and to help you achieve the highest grade you are capable of. A constructive, mutually respectful attitude in all matters will greatly facilitate this process. I will be available to discuss your questions and concerns during the office hours stated at the top of this syllabus. You can also make an appointment for either an in-person or online meeting at a different time by emailing me.

Email: Please note: I will not open any email that does not show a recognizable name in the send field and this course number in the subject field. This does not include messages within UNM Learn. I check email daily and will respond to emails within 24 hours during the week and 48 hours on the weekend. Note also that you will not receive a grade for any paper submitted via an email attachment that does not show your name on the first page. If you text me at the above number please be sure to include your name and course.

Regarding Online Office Hours: The best way to get in touch with me is by email, either via UNM email or in Learn. I will have office hours via Zoom at the times listed above but I can be available to meet remotely at other times. Please email me to set up a time outside of my regular office hours. My personal meeting room link is available on Blackboard.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS & TECHNICAL SKILLS

The nature of an online course requires that all students have regular and reliable access to a computer and internet services. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure they have and maintain regular and reliable access to a computer and internet services. UNM Learn (Blackboard) is designed to work best from a personal computer. Some features may not be accessible from tablets, smart phones, and other devices.

All files submitted for the course must be submitted as either a Microsoft Word Document or PDF. UNM Learn is unable to read other file formats. It is each student’s responsibility to ensure files have been submitted properly. (Or, articulate which apps, software, etc. are required.) If you want to submit your assignments in a Google doc please be sure to create a shareable link with permission to make comments and then copy that link into the appropriate submission section.

In order to participate and succeed in this class, you will need to be able to perform the following basic technical tasks:

- Use UNM Learn (help documentation located in "How to Use Learn" link on left course menu, and also at Online Student Documentation). Also, UNM-Valencia provides a Blackboard Learn Jumpstart self-learning module to give you practice with the most commonly used tools in UNM Learn. Ask your instructor if you do not see the UNM-Valencia Blackboard Learn Jumstart in your list of classes in UNM Learn.

- Use email – including attaching files, opening files, downloading attachments
- Copy and paste within applications including Microsoft Office
- Open a hyperlink (click on a hyperlink to access a website or online resource)
- Use Microsoft Office applications
 - o Create, download, update, save and upload MS Word documents
 - o Create, download, update, save and upload MS PowerPoint presentations
 - o Access MS Teams
- Use the in-course web conferencing tool (Collaborate Web Conferencing software in UNM Learn) or use Zoom or other web conferencing tool
- Download and install an application or plug in – required for participating in web conferencing sessions

Technical Requirements

Computer

- A high-speed Internet connection is highly recommended.
- Supported browsers include: Detailed Supported Browsers and Operating Systems
- Any computer capable of running a recently updated web browser should be sufficient to access your online course. However, bear in mind that processor speed, amount of RAM and Internet connection speed can greatly affect performance.
- Microsoft Office products are available free for all UNM students (more information on the UNM IT Software Distribution and Downloads page)
- Please update your contact information in LoboWeb: MyUNM Login. When you log into MyUNM, Enter LoboWeb. Click on the Personal Information link to make sure your contact information is up to date.

Web Conferencing

Web conferencing will be used in this course during the following times and dates: Schedule office hours are Mondays and Wednesdays from 10:00 am - 11:00 am or by appointment.

For the online sessions, you will need:

- A USB headset with microphone. Headsets are widely available at stores that sell electronics, at the UNM Bookstore or online.
- A high-speed internet connection is highly recommended for these sessions. A wireless Internet connection may be used if successfully tested for audio quality prior to web conferencing.
- You should also dress as you would when attending an in-person class, even if you do not turn on your video camera.

Technical Support

- For UNM Learn Technical Support: (505) 277-0857 (24/7) or use the “Create a Tech Support Ticket” link in your course.
- For UNM-Valencia IT Support: (505)925-8911
- For UNM Web Conference Technical Help: (505) 277-0857

ATTENDANCE/PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

Attendance in an online environment: This is not a self-paced course. You will need to plan specific blocks of time each week to dedicate to this class. To successfully complete all of the work, you should plan on at least 6-8 hours each week. I tell you this so that you can remember to set aside time that you will dedicate specifically to this course. It is easy to put online classes on the back burner and forget about them. Please do not do that! Devise a weekly schedule that fits your life and allows you to complete all of the assignments by the time they are due each unit.

Students enrolled for credit, credit/no credit, or audit are expected to submit all assignments and complete courses tasks on a regular basis according to deadlines.

Students should not assume they will be dropped from the class automatically. Technical issues do not relieve students of the responsibility for missed assignments and exams. Students must take the initiative in arranging with their instructor to make up missed work. Attendance in this online course will be tracked through the timely completion of assignments and participation. Simply logging into UNM Learn (a.k.a. Blackboard) does not constitute attendance. Students who do not submit an assignment, login or participate during the first week of class may be dropped from the course. A student with excessive missed assignments may be dropped from the course. Missing two weeks or more of assignments assigned constitutes excessive missed assignments.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

General Organization

This class is divided into four major sections that correspond with the thematic/chronological sections in the book. These have then been further divided into two week units. In each unit you will have, in general, assigned readings, tweets over the readings, weekly journals, and a timeline assignment. At the end of each major section there is a discussion forum to review and recap the major themes of the section. There is also an introductory week at the beginning of the term and a finals week at the end.

Twitter Assignment

Each student is required to post at least 15 tweets over the assigned chapters for the unit. Ten of the tweets should address the assigned readings for that week and should pertain to all of the readings. Five should be in response to tweets posted by classmates. You are required to participate in six of the seven reading tweet assignments

Discussion Forums

In addition to the introductory forum there will be five discussion forums. The first one addresses history and historical thinking. The rest address themes from the primary textbook and supplemental readings.

Journals

There are seven journals over the course of the semester. The journals are your reflections about the material covered in the units, as specified in the journal instructions.

Other Assignments

Each student will contribute five events/persons/themes to a class timeline. There are six possible entries and you are required to do five of them.

Each student will also complete a final project over a topic of their choosing.

Summary of Units:

For each major unit you are required to:

1. Read the assigned chapters
2. Read the assigned supplemental readings
3. Tweet about the readings
4. Post on the discussion board
5. Submit your journals
6. Submit Timeline IDs and Connections
7. Complete the other assignments as appropriate, such as the interim assignments for the final project.

GRADING

The Grades for this course will be calculated as follows:

			Percent
			A+	99.0%	–	100.0%
Activities	#	% of Final Grade	A	94.0%	–	98.9%
First Week Activities		5%	A-	90.0%	–	93.9%
Discussions	5	20%	B+	87.0%	–	89.9%
Tweets	6	10%	B	84.0%	–	86.9%
Journals	7	20%	B-	80.0%	–	83.9%
Timelines	5	20%	C+	77.0%	–	79.9%
Final Project		20%	C	72.0%	–	76.9%
Blackboard Orientation		5%	C-	70.0%	–	73.9%
		100%	D+	67.0%	–	69.9%
			D	64.0%	–	66.9%
			D	60.0%	–	63.9%
			F	Less than		60.0%

In the event UNM closes during finals week, final grades for students will be calculated based on all work assessed up to that point in the course.

MISCELLANEOUS POLICIES

I expect that students will develop critical thinking skills through class participation. Students are expected to login regularly and submit their work on time. In addition, they are expected to display courteous behavior with respect for their instructor and fellow students and honesty in their academic and personal interactions.

Late and Missed Assignments: Assignments are due at the time and date specified. Late discussion posts are not allowed. Other assignments will be accepted up to two weeks beyond the due date. No assignments will be accepted later than two weeks beyond the due date unless we have discussed it ahead of time. If a serious crisis situation occurs please inform me as soon as you can so that I can work with you accordingly.

Academic Honesty/Plagiarism: According to University of New Mexico Policy Statement on Academic Dishonesty "Academic dishonesty" includes, but is not limited to, dishonesty in quizzes, tests, or assignments; claiming credit for work not done or done by others; hindering the academic work of other students; misrepresenting academic or professional qualifications within or without the University; and non-disclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records. UNM policies concerning academic honesty can be found at: <http://policy.unm.edu/regents-policies/section-4/4-8.html>

Plagiarism occurs when someone – knowingly or unknowingly – presents the words or ideas of another person as his or her own. This is a violation of UNM rules as well as the expectations for this class. Any work turned in for this class must meet UNM standards for academic honesty. Students unsure about how to apply these rules should consult with the instructor prior to turning in written work.

According to the policy “Each student is expected to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity in academic and professional matters. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or who otherwise fails to meet the expected standards. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty in coursework may receive a reduced or failing grade for the work in question and/or for the course.”

As the policy applies to this course: Anyone caught plagiarizing or cheating will receive an immediate 0 for that assignment or exam—NO EXCEPTIONS!!! Incidents of plagiarism may also be reported to the Dean of Students, at the discretion of the instructor.

STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS

This course is hosted on Blackboard Learn 9.1, which is ADA compliant.

If you have a documented disability, the Equal Access Services office will provide me with a letter outlining your accommodations. I will then discuss the accommodations with you to determine the best learning environment. If you feel that you need accommodations, but have not documented your disability, please contact Jeanne Lujan, the coordinator for Equal Access Services at 925-8910 or jmlujan@unm.edu.

Academic Freedom and Intercultural Diversity: All students are expected to respect the opinions and diverse perspectives of others, including such factors as gender, race, nationality, ethnicity, sexual orientation, religion, and other relevant cultural identities. Each student is guaranteed the right to freely express his or her ideas, no matter what they are or how unpopular they are. All students are expected to maintain an atmosphere of respect and tolerance for diverse perspectives. Sexist, racist, heterosexist or other prejudicial comments will not be tolerated.

Title IX: In an effort to meet obligations under Title IX, UNM faculty, Teaching Assistants, and Graduate Assistants are considered “responsible employees” by the Department of Education (see pg 15 - <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/qa-201404-title-ix.pdf>). This designation requires that any report of gender discrimination which includes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and sexual violence made to a faculty member, TA, or GA must be reported to the Title IX Coordinator at the Office of Equal Opportunity (oeo.unm.edu). For more information on the campus policy regarding sexual misconduct, see: <https://policy.unm.edu/university-policies/2000/2740.html>
