Software such as Adobe Reader, Microsoft Office Suite will also be used. A headset might come in handy when viewing videos and listening to podcasts and during Zoom conferencing for office hours, etc.

Course Schedule

This is a 16-week course that runs from Monday, January 16th, 2023, through Saturday, May 13th, 2023. All due dates and time referred to in this course will be in Mountain Time.

Course Description:

Economics is a way of thinking that can help you understand everything from the stock market to marriages, to child rearing, to crime, to elections, to the decisions you make every day in your lives. It's a study of choices. It tells us the kind of trade-offs that people/companies/countries are faced with and how they decide which alternative to choose. This course introduces students to macroeconomics, the study of the economy. Macroeconomics applies the basic principles of economics to whole economic systems and the relationships among sectors of the economy. The course emphasizes the development of conceptual tools to analyze the economic problems facing modern society.

Canvas Login Instructions:

For help on accessing Canvas see -- How do I log in to Canvas? More help documentation located in "Help"> "UNM Canvas Help Site" link on left course menu, and also at Online Student Documentation.

Connect Registration Instructions

Please go here for instructions on registering and accessing your textbook and other material on McGraw-Hill Connect. I, as the professor, have chosen Inclusive Access (IA) to save money, and the price is less than buying directly from the publisher. Students should not shop for the required Connect access because the pathway to it is loaded into Canvas. The Connect access will be available through Canvas on the first day of class for all enrolled students.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon the successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

- CL1. Explain the concepts of opportunity cost, comparative advantage, and exchange.
- CL2. Demonstrate knowledge of the laws of supply and demand and equilibrium and use supply and demand curves to analyze responses of markets to external events.
- CL3. Explain the circular flow model and use the concepts of aggregate demand and aggregate supply to analyze the response of the economy to disturbances.
- CL4. Explain the concepts of gross domestic product, inflation, and unemployment and how they are measured.
- CL5. Describe the determinants of the demand for money, the supply of money and interest rates and the role of financial institutions in the economy.
- CL6. Define fiscal policy and monetary policy and how these affect the economy.
- CL7. Identify the causes of prosperity, growth, and economic change over time and explain the mechanisms through which these causes operate in the economy.

Expectations:

1. This is an online class. To succeed in an online class, you need to have the required level of computer skills, motivation, and a commitment to learn and work on your own. Online classes are good for self-starters, i.e., students who can take the initiative to complete coursework without the direct supervision of a professor.
2. Each week, you will be expected to:
 - a. Review and complete all assigned readings,
 - b. Complete and submit all homework assignments on Connect,
 - c. Participate in class discussion (see discussion forum instructions below), and
 - d. Complete Exams on the Connect platform

No late work will be accepted.
3. Economics courses are more like mathematics courses in that keeping up with the material and doing practice problems are imperative to receiving a good grade. Each week, read and re-read the chapters and any associated study material that I post on Canvas. Read until you are confident in your understanding of the material and only then attempt the assigned homework and exams. Thinking, not memorizing, is the key to success – economics is a way of thinking, not a body of “facts”.
4. If you have any questions or need additional clarifications about any aspect of the course, e-mail me sooner rather than later. If I do not respond to your e-mail within 36 hours, please resend it. If you'd like to make sure that I receive your e-mail, write it professionally and put the following keywords in the subject line: Econ 2110 Online followed by a couple words describing the subject matter of the e-mail. You can anticipate a 24 to 36-hours response time from me, Monday – Thursday. I will try and respond to all weekend (Friday afternoon to Sunday) emails by EOD on Monday.
5. UNM provides each student with a NetID and an associated email address. It is imperative to ensure “effective contact” that you check your UNM e-mail on a regular basis. Please do not send me e-mails from your personal e-mail accounts such as Gmail, Yahoo, MSN, etc. I might not receive those emails because they are flagged as spam by the UNM mail server. Here's UNM's policy on emails: <https://policy.unm.edu/university-policies/2000/2540.html>
6. Important course announcements will be communicated via e-mail or the Announcements tool on Canvas. This will forward an email to your campus (registered) email address. Be sure to check the Announcements tab on the course home page regularly.
7. It is your responsibility as a student to communicate quickly with me any issue or emergency that will impact your involvement with or performance in the class. This includes, but is not limited to - getting “kicked off” of the system during tests or quizzes; - having trouble submitting assignments; - family emergencies etc.
8. Since we are dependent on the internet for this course, be mindful that problems with technology happen sometimes. To avoid missing a deadline, do not wait until the last minute to complete your assignments or exams. I will not accept your technical issues (with equipment, network connection, Canvas or Connect) as legitimate reason for missing work. If you have difficulty using a tool on Canvas to complete work, use the “Support Services” link immediately and notify me as well. If you have a difficulty using Connect, contact Connect Tech Support immediately and notify me as well.

Attendance:

This is an online course, so it is your responsibility to attend class through Canvas and complete all work assigned. You CANNOT afford to get behind. Non completion of the course or failing will affect your grade and thus may affect any scholarships, grants, or financial aid, requiring payment back to the offering institution. For attendance purposes, you are required by 11:59 PM on Sunday of each week to complete all the work due for that week. Students who fail to complete this expectation for two consecutive weeks MAY be dropped from the course without any notice. DO NOT assume, however, that if you do not log into the class, you will be dropped. If you choose not to pursue the course, it is ultimately your responsibility to officially drop the course. Please make yourself aware of drop dates here.

Exams:

There will be three exams in this course, each worth 15% of your final grade. The exams will be available to you on Connect and will be due at the end of weeks 5, 10, and 16, respectively. The following are the chapters that each of these exams will cover and their due dates:

Topics	Due Date

Exam 2 -- Chapters 9 - 10, 12-15	Saturday, May 13, 2023

Homework Assignments:

Each week on Sunday you will have HW assignments due on Connect on the chapter(s) we cover that week¹. Each homework assignment is worth 2.5% of your final grade. You will have unlimited attempts on these HW assignments up to the due date with a 5% penalty per failed attempt. You will be starting over on each new attempt.

I recommend that each week, you read and re-read the chapters and any associated study material that I post on Canvas until you are confident in your understanding of the material and only then attempt the assigned homework. Don't forget, you can always contact me via e-mail if you need additional guidance!

¹ Week 8 is an exception, when your HW is due by Saturday.

Topic	Due Date	Grade Weight
Chapter 1	Sunday, January 22, 2023	2.50%
Chapter 2	Sunday, January 29, 2023	2.50%
Chapter 3	Sunday, February 5, 2023	2.50%
Chapter 4	Sunday, February 12, 2023	2.50%

Chapter 14	Sunday, April 30, 2023	2.50%
Chapter 15	Sunday, May 7, 2023	2.50%

Discussion Board Posts:

Each week, except for the weeks when you have an exam due, you will be responsible for completing the discussion forum activities for that week. These deliverables will account for 21% of your final grade. You can access these forums under the respective week modules in the Canvas course. You are required to create a new thread with a response to the question(s) I post in the Forum Description. Once you create your thread, you will be able to view other threads in the forum by your classmates (as and when they are created). You are then required to go back and read your classmates' threads and create a response post to at least 2 of your classmates' threads.

Each student must make their initial thread to the forum by 11:59 PM on Wednesdays. After you make your initial post, you must then post a reply to at least two other students' initial threads (a minimum of two reply posts) by 11:59 PM on Fridays. You must also respond to ALL questions posed/ comments made by other students and/or me on your initial thread.²

Your posts must be coherent, demonstrate that you engaged with the material from previous course work/this class's texts, and reinforce important content. Your initial post should have 3 to 5 critical points relevant to the week's topic.

Initial posts must be a minimum of 250 words and your reply to posts must be a minimum of 125 words to receive an average score (C or C+/73-79). Posts beyond these numbers AND with substantial content will be considered for an above average score (B or A/80-100). Remember, long posts don't necessarily mean that you will earn a better grade. Strive for quality over quantity when it comes to word count.

² Week 8 is an exception, when your response posts are due by the Monday after Fall Break.

Respond to others - You will individually comment—reply—to your fellow learners’ posts. These responses are expected to add to the discussion and even extend it. This should not be an “I agree or disagree” post; rather, interject your own personal analysis of the originating student’s posting. Please make each posting meaningful and on-point.

Please note that responding to others is a critical part of this discussion forum activity. Reading and engaging with other students’ understanding of the subject matter gives depth to your understanding of the topic. If you only make an initial post but don’t complete your response posts, your work for this activity will be deemed incomplete and you will earn a score of zero for the week’s discussion forum.

Practice Quizzes:

For each chapter of the book that we cover, you will have a practice quiz on the Connect platform. These quizzes are not going to factor in your final grade but are a good practice material for your exams.
