Course Description

Sociology is the study of the study of society beyond the individual (as opposed to psychology, which tends to focus on the individual.) In this class we will study the basic and more complex social behavior. This will include micro level behaviors such as family life and macro level social behavior such as social movements and interactions between nations.

Course Objectives

After successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Utilize the Sociological Perspective in understanding both micro and macro level social phenomena
- Understand the impact of prejudice and discrimination on both dominating and discriminated against groups
- Use course terms in their proper contexts. These will include (among others): sex, gender, race, ethnicity, discrimination, prejudice, norm, value, and folkway.
- Apply course content to their understanding of personal, national, and international affairs.

Attendance Policy and Overall Participation:

- Attendance and overall participation will be measured by weekly work on Blackboard Learn. Students are responsible for submitting a weekly essays and discussions by Sunday 11:59 PM (Mountain Time), and completing quizzes by Wednesday 11:59 PM (Mountain Time). Students who miss more than 2 weekly assignments will be dropped. Two incomplete assignments equal one absence.
- Excused absences include documented hospitalization or other documented, unexpected extreme emergencies; if excessive absenteeism that falls under the purview of "excused absences" continues, I reserve the right to drop students from the course. Please note: doctor's appointments, child-care, court dates, and job scheduling conflicts do not count as excused absences by virtue of the online nature of this course.
- Students who miss the first assignment and do not contact me in the first week will be dropped.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism means using language and/or ideas without acknowledging their source. Plagiarism includes such activities as copying another student's papers or ideas, downloading and turning in papers from the Internet, or copying passages from sources without proper documentation, or rephrasing an author's ideas and presenting them as the student's new, original thoughts.

Plagiarism in this course may result in one or more of the following consequences: failure of the assignment, failure of the course, or disciplinary action by the University. To learn how to avoid plagiarism, students can speak to me, consult a tutor, or refer to <http://library.acadiau.ca/tutorials/plagiarism/>.

Email Etiquette Policy

Please keep the following in mind when you write emails:

- Please avoid text-speak. Learning to write professional emails early on is a skill you need as you progress to higher academic levels and career pursuits.
- Emails that you write to me during the semester should include professional language, addressed with a subject heading including the type of question you are asking. For example, "Essay 1" would be an appropriate subject heading for a question regarding the first essay.
- Emails should also include a salutation. For example, "Dear Mr. Baker" or "Hello Mr. Baker" would be an appropriate salutation. Part of Composition is learning when and how to use proper diction and registers of language, and in a formal setting like a college course, professional titles are appreciated.
- Please close with an appropriate phrase and sign your email with your name. Some examples of appropriate phrases are "Sincerely," or "Thank you for your help."
- Use short paragraphs (in general, 3-4 lines maximum) to make the email easy to read.
- Be sure to proofread your email for grammatical or spelling errors.

Equal Access

Accessibility Services located in Student Services provides academic support to students who have disabilities. If students think they need alternative formats for completing coursework, they should contact this service right away to ensure their needs are met in a timely manner. Students are responsible for getting all documented forms to me as soon as possible. I cannot accommodate any special needs without the proper authorization from UNM Valencia Campus Accessibility Services. Pursuant to the American with Disabilities Act (ADA), I accommodate documented special needs and encourage students to discuss their concerns with me.

They are located in Advisement & Counseling Services Student Services Building, 280 La Entrada Rd., Los Lunas, NM 87031, 505-925-8560.

NB: In order for me to best accommodate you, please submit the appropriate paperwork to me within the first two weeks of the semester.

Student Privacy

Student privacy is strongly protected by professors at UNM-VC. The federal FERPA strictly prohibits the instructor or administrators from talking to anyone but the student about his/her progress. If a student has questions about a grade on an assignment or about the final grade for the course, FERPA dictates that the student is the only one who may speak to the instructor regarding their grades. All other outside requests for information release must be sent to and approved by the UNM-VC registrar: (505) 925-8580

Office of Equal opportunity and Title IX

In an effort to meet obligations under Title IX, UNM faculty, Teaching Assistants, and Graduate Assistants are considered "responsible employees" by the Department of Education (see pg 15 - <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/qa-201404-title-ix.pdf>). This designation requires that any report of gender discrimination which includes sexual harassment, sexual misconduct and sexual violence made to a faculty member, TA, or GA must be reported to the Title IX Coordinator at the Office of Equal Opportunity (oeo.unm.edu). For more information on the campus policy regarding sexual misconduct, see: <https://policy.unm.edu/university-policies/2000/2740.html>

Required Work and Grading

Weekly Assignments and Discussion Posts

Students are responsible for posting discussion questions, and prompts that I have posted on our UNM Blackboard Learn site.

The following will be expected of students on Discussion Boards

- In this class, we will be frequently discussing controversial topics. You do not have to agree with everyone, and you are expected to express your opinions. However, you must also respect the opinions of others. Intentionally homophobic, racist, sexist, ethnocentric, or otherwise discriminatory statements or behavior will not be tolerated. Such statements not only derail our work, but can be very hurtful to your fellow student.
- Each week, students are expected to make one initial post and at least two comment posts to fellow students or the professor.
- Students may receive a maximum of six points for initial posts and a maximum of two points for each comment post.
- Initial posts are to be at least 300 words and are to be made by Wednesday at 11:59 PM
- Comment posts are to be at least 100 words and are due by Sunday at 11:59 PM
- Students may not turn in late posts

The following will be expected of students in their weekly essays

- Each week, students are expected to submit one essay via Blackboard Learn
- Each essay has a maximum point value of 20 points.
- Each essay is to be at least 500 words and are due by Sunday at 11:59 PM

- All formal writing assignments must follow APA format and be typewritten, double-spaced in a 12pt, Times New Roman font.
- Students may not submit late work

Quizzes

Open book quizzes on Blackboard Learn will be available at the beginning of the semester and will shut on the scheduled days according to the syllabus. Quizzes can be completed before the Wednesday deadlines, but not after. Students have one hour, and one attempt, to complete these open-booked quizzes. Quizzes cannot be made up.

Midterm and Final Essay

All students will submit two essays at mid and end semester. Essay prompts will be made available. Both essays will follow APA format and must be submitted to Blackboard Learn as a Word document attachment. Essays not submitted in Word will be returned to student and points will be deducted for being late.

Late Policy

I will not accept late Blackboard Learn assignments without a valid doctor's excuse. If you are having technical problems, you may email me your response to jbake100@csc.edu by the due date, Sunday 11:59 PM. I will not accept essays more than two days after the assigned date. For each day the essay is late, the assignment will be marked down half a letter grade, so make sure to turn in your essays in a timely manner and in the appropriate format (attached as a Word doc.).

Required Work and Grading

All formal writing assignments must follow APA format and be typewritten, double-spaced in a 12pt, Times New Roman font.
