Overview/Course Description

Welcome to English 150! English 150 is an introduction to the study and appreciation of literature and literary forms, specifically the genres of fiction, poetry, and drama. We will analyze, evaluate, and consider works of literature from a range of time periods, cultures, and authors to expand students' appreciation and enjoyment of literature. By critically exploring literary genres, techniques, and conventions, we will enhance our appreciation of literature and its themes by the end of the semester.

Course Objectives

- 1. Read and analyze material. To be successful writers and thinkers, you will consider a number of perspectives, read critically, summarize accurately, and analyze insightfully. These tasks require that students interpret, evaluate, and synthesize a variety of challenging and interesting texts.
- 2. Practice a variety of genre writing. Assignments, Discussions, Quizzes and Midterm and Final Essays are designed for students to engage in different exercises that include identification, comparing and contrasting, as well as writing summary analyses and reviews.
- 3. Identify and Apply Literary Terms. Students will identify and apply literary terms in writing responses, quizzes, and in the Midterm and Final Essays.

Required Text

Meyer, Michael, Ed. The Compact Bedford Introduction to Literature. 10th ed. New York: Bedford/St. Martin's, 2014.

Instructor Information

My face-to-face office hours in the summer are by appointment. You can also email me in between 8:00 am and 5:00 pm M-F. Please give me at least 24 hours to respond, Monday through Friday. I am offline during the weekend.

Tutoring

Email Dr. Patricia Gillikin at gillikin@unm.edu for information about free tutoring at the Writing Center.

Attendance Policy

- Attendance and overall participation will be measured by weekly work on UNM Blackboard Learn. Students are responsible for submitting weekly assignments and quizzes Sundays and Wednesdays by 11:59 PM. Because this is an accelerated summer course, students who miss more than 2 weekly assignments will be dropped.
- Excused absences include documented hospitalization or other documented, unexpected extreme emergencies; if excessive absenteeism that falls under the purview of “excused absences” continues, I reserve the right to drop students from the course. Please note: doctor’s appointments, child-care, court dates, and job scheduling conflicts do not count as excused absences.
- Students who miss the first assignment and do not contact me in the first week will be dropped.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism means using language and/or ideas without acknowledging their source. Plagiarism includes such activities as copying another student’s papers or ideas, downloading and turning in papers from the Internet, or copying passages from sources without proper documentation, or rephrasing an author’s ideas and presenting them as the student’s new, original thoughts. Plagiarism in this course may result in one or more of the following consequences: failure of the assignment, failure of the course, or disciplinary action by the University. To learn how to avoid plagiarism, students can speak to me, consult a tutor, or refer to <http://library.acadiau.ca/tutorials/plagiarism/>.

Email Netiquette Policy

Please keep the following in mind when you write emails:

- Please avoid text-speak. Learning to write professional emails early on is a skill you need as you progress to higher academic levels and career pursuits.
- Emails that you write to me during the semester should include professional language, addressed with a subject heading including the type of question you are asking. For example, “Essay 1” would be an appropriate subject heading for a question regarding the first essay.
- Emails should also include a salutation. For example, “Dear Dr. Martínez” or “Hello Dr. Martínez” would be an appropriate salutation. Part of academic discourse is learning when and how to use proper diction and registers of language, and in a formal setting like a college course, professional titles are appreciated.
- Please close with an appropriate phrase and sign your email with your name. Some examples of appropriate phrases are “Sincerely,” or “Thank you for your help,”.
- Use short paragraphs (in general, 3-4 lines maximum) to make the email easy to read. In addition, be sure to skip lines between paragraphs.
- Be sure to proofread your email for grammatical errors.

Equal Access

Accessibility Services located in Student Services provides academic support to students who have disabilities. If students think they need alternative formats for completing coursework, they should contact this service right away to ensure their needs are met in a timely manner. Students are responsible for getting all documented forms to me as soon as possible. I cannot accommodate any special needs without the proper authorization from UNM Valencia Campus Accessibility Services. Pursuant to the American with Disabilities Act (ADA), I accommodate documented special needs and encourage students to discuss their concerns with me.

They are located in Advisement & Counseling Services Student Services Building, 280 La Entrada Rd., Los Lunas, NM 87031, 505-925-8560.

<http://www.unm.edu/~vcadvise/equalaccess.htm>

NB: In order for me to best accommodate you, please submit the appropriate paperwork to me within the first two weeks of the semester.

Student Privacy

Student privacy is strongly protected by professors at UNM-VC. The federal FERPA strictly prohibits the instructor or administrators from talking to anyone but the student about his/her progress. If a student has questions about a grade on an assignment or about the final grade for the course, FERPA dictates that the student is the only one who may speak to the instructor regarding their grades. All other outside requests for information release must be sent to and approved by the UNM-VC registrar: (505) 925-8580 <http://www.unm.edu/~unmvc/Admissions/admiss.htm>

Technical Support

If you have questions about computer-related problems, call 277-5757, M-F, 8:00 am-12:00 noon and M-F, 1:00 pm-5:00 pm MST. Computer technicians are available and happy to help you solve those difficult problems.

Tutorials: If you do not know how to use Blackboard Learn, try one of the tutorials available on the information page at <http://online.unm.edu/help/learn/students/>

Office of Equal opportunity and Title IX

In an effort to meet obligations under Title IX, UNM faculty, Teaching Assistants, and Graduate Assistants are considered responsible employees. This designation requires that any report made to a faculty member, TA, or GA regarding sexual misconduct or gender discrimination must be reported to the Office of Equal Opportunity and the Title IX Coordinator. For more information on the campus policy regarding sexual misconduct, see: <https://policy.unm.edu/university-policies/2000/2740.html>

Required Work and Grading

All formal writing assignments must follow MLA format and be typewritten, double-spaced in a 12pt, Times New Roman font.

13 Learn assignments: 25 points each	325 pts
13 Discussion Posts: 5 points each	65 pts
13 Quizzes: 5 points each	65 pts
1 Summary and Reading Question	30 pts
Midterm Essay	100 pts
Final Essay	100 pts
Total possible Points	685 pts

There are 685 points possible. Grades will be determined on a traditional percentage system, with the appropriate plus or minus sign: 100-90% = A (685-617 points); 89-80% = B (616-548); 79-70%= C (615-480 points); 69-60% = D (479-411); and below = F.

Weekly Assignments, Discussion Posts, and Quizzes

Students are responsible for posting responses to lectures, discussion questions, and prompts that I have posted on our UNM Blackboard Learn site. These questions are designed to generate class discussion and promote further inquiry into our topics. All Assignments, Discussions Posts, and Quizzes are due Sundays and Wednesdays by 11:59 PM; late work will not be accepted.

*Note: assignments are available at the beginning of the semester; you can work on assignments anytime they are available, but not after the due date. To ensure that you turn in quality and timely work, please don't wait until the last minute. Responses should be well written, thoughtful, and clear. For full credit, respond to all questions, including discussion posts.

Open book quizzes on Blackboard Learn will be available at the beginning of the semester and will shut on the scheduled days according to the syllabus. Quizzes can be completed before the deadlines, but not after. Students have one hour to complete these open-booked quizzes. Quizzes cannot be made up.

Summary and Reading Question

All students will be responsible for summarizing a selection and creating a reading question on one of the weekly assignments. During our first week, I will ask you what week/text you would like to present on. By the second, I will confirm the schedule; if I haven't heard from you, I will assign you a text. An example of a successful summary and question are available in the "Summary and Question" folder located in the "Weekly Assignments" folder. Your goal is to ask a compelling question that will invoke engaging responses from your classmates. Please refer to the Reading Question grading rubric under grade forms on our Blackboard Learn site.

Midterm and Final Essays

All students will submit two 4-6 page essays at mid and end semester. Essay prompts will be made available. Both essays will follow the MLA format and must be submitted to Blackboard Learn as a Word document attachment. Essays not submitted in Word will be returned to student and points will be deducted for being late.

Late Policy

Because all assignments and all quizzes are posted at the beginning of the semester, I do not accept late assignments or offer "make-up" quizzes. If you are having technical problems, you may email me your response to danizete@unm.edu by the assignment due date.

Revision Policy:

You have the option to revise assignments that you received a 70% on or below. These revisions are due by the deadline of the next assignment. Only one revision per assignments 70% or below will be accepted.
