Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of the course students should be able to:

1. Explain how the scientific method and psychological research methodologies are used to study the mind and behavior.
2. Recall key terms, concepts, and theories in the areas of neuroscience, learning, memory, cognition, intelligence, motivation and emotion, development, personality, health, disorders and therapies, and social psychology.
3. Explain how information provided in this course can be applied to life in the real world.
4. Identify the major theoretical schools of thought that exist in psychology as they relate to the self, the culture, and the society.

Specific Student Learning Objectives

Psychology General Education Course (PSY 1110: Introduction to Psychology): Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

The Department follows NM HED Area IV and UNM Area 4 Competencies for Social and Behavioral Sciences. General Psychology sets three goals for our students:

Students will demonstrate acquisition of both factual knowledge and the ability to conceptualize and apply this knowledge to their own behavior, to ways of interacting with others, and to their roles in culture and society.

- SLO 1: Learning will be demonstrated by performance on multiple quizzes, tests, and exams that cover the basic issues in Psychology: methodology, neuroscience, sensation and perception, consciousness, learning, memory, thinking, language, intelligence, motivation and emotion, sexuality, gender and diversity, development, personality, stress and health, disorders, treatments, and social considerations.
- SLO 2: Students will demonstrate their abilities to apply what they have learned regarding the basic issues in Psychology (see above) to factual, practical, theoretical, and philosophical
- Addresses HED/UNM Area IV/4, Competencies 1, 2, 3, & 4

Students will understand and be able to apply principles of the scientific method and critical thinking.

- SLO 1: Learning will be demonstrated by performance on multiple quizzes, tests, and exams that cover the basic issues in Psychology: methodology, neuroscience, sensation and perception, consciousness, learning, memory, thinking, language, intelligence, motivation and emotion, sexuality, gender and diversity, development, personality, stress and health, disorders, treatments, and social considerations.
- SLO 2: Students will demonstrate their abilities to apply what they have learned regarding the scientific method and critical thinking to theoretical, philosophical, and practical issues
- Addresses HED/UNM Area IV/4, Competencies 1, 2, 3, & 4

Students will be able to summarize and interpret scientific journal articles and explain how reported findings may affect themselves, as well as their communities, culture, and society.

- SLO 1: Students will be graded on their ability to summarize, interpret, and comment upon scientific journal articles.
- Addresses HED/UNM Area IV/4, Competencies 3 & 4

Course Requirements

Readings

Each student is required to read the assigned pages in the textbook and any other additional readings/websites.

Attendance

Students enrolled for credit, credit/no credit, or audit are expected to be actively engaged on-line and work on all assignments, turn in homework, reflection journals, quizzes on-time. Students may be dropped from the class if they do not keep up with assignments and are not responding to instructor's emails or on-line messages. Since this is an on-line course, students need to be actively engaged in course work every week. There will be a calendar of when assignments are due. The calendar and announcements will be on UNM Learn/Blackboard as well as here on the syllabus.

Students must take the initiative in arranging with me to make up missed work. Your grade will be affected due to missed assignments, quizzes and exams. It may result in a lower grade or failing class. A student who misses the first-class meeting and has not contacted the instructor, or who misses two consecutive class meetings in the first week may be dropped from the course.

Quizzes, Midterm & Final Exam

There are 10 multiple choice quizzes online, one midterm exam and one final comprehensive exam.

Quizzes: You will have one week to do quiz and multiple attempts. Highest quiz grade is recorded. The quizzes will be taken through UNM Learn/ Blackboard.

Final Exam. Comprehensive final exam will be on-line and opened the last week of class. The final exam will consist of 50 multiple choice questions and it cannot be dropped. Midterm and final exam are multiple choice. Midterm is also taken online.

In addition, students will earn points by writing reaction papers or doing homework projects on topics assigned by the instructor. You must do all homework and in class assignments. Homework assignments are not dropped.

Semester Long Project

Students will keep a journal and turn in for every chapter/ lecture topic through UNM Learn/ Blackboard. In the journal, each student will reflect on the readings and lectures/discussions. The students will: 1) try and explain what they learned from the book and lectures, 2) discuss what they found confusing or difficult to understand, 3) discuss what they found interesting and why and 4) reflect on they how can apply what they learned from the readings and lectures to their own personal lives. Journal must be typed, double spaced, 12-point font, Arial or Times New Roman Font. 2-3 pages minimum per topic/chapter.

Grading

It is my goal to grade your work within one week of the due date. If you have questions, please ask me.

Late and Missed Assignments

Assignments are due at the time and date specified. After this time, the assignment is considered late and for each 24-hour period afterwards, 10% will be automatically deducted off the grade. If a crisis occurs, PLEASE inform me as soon as you can so I can work with you accordingly. To keep my sanity as a teacher, there will be no other exceptions to this rule.

Again, due to the potential for Internet outages, log on problems, personal emergencies, illness or anything else that may prevent you from submitting assignments on time, DO NOT wait until the last day or minute to submit assignments or take quizzes and the final.

GRADING

A = 90-100% D = 60-69%
B = 80-89% F = Below 60%
C = 70-79%

Quizzes = 30% (30pts/quiz x 10= 300points)

Homework & assignments =40% (10 reflection journals x 10 + dream journal and 3 personality surveys x 30= 420 points)

Midterm & Final Exam =30% (50 points x 20=100 points)

Student Responsibilities

In order to be successful in this course each student must take responsibility for the following:

- Read the required readings
- Attend class (Be present on-line) and turn in-class assignments on time
- Keeping up with the calendar of assignments
- Contacting the instructor by email immediately when there is a true emergency that prevents submitting work by the due date
- Having consistent and reliable access to a computer and to the internet
- Checking regularly to view grades, announcements, and comments from me
- Posting and submitting quizzes before 11:30pm the on due date
- Adhering to the Student Code of Conduct
- Following proper protocol for withdrawing from class if needed

Academic Honesty:

Students are expected to comply with the academic policy of UNM – Valencia. Any academic dishonesty will result in expulsion from the course. Your writing assignments must not be plagiarized. Plagiarism means using or copying language and/or ideas without acknowledging where you got them. Plagiarism includes copying another student's paper or ideas, downloading and turning in papers from the Internet, copying passages from sources without proper documentation, or rephrasing an author's ideas and then presenting them as your own original thoughts. To learn how to avoid plagiarism you can talk to me or consult a tutor. If you would like even more information about plagiarism, The Owl at Purdue website offers sage advice: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/01>

If you do plagiarize, you will face one or more of the following consequences: failing the assignment, failing the course, or facing disciplinary action taken by the University. The University considers plagiarism a serious form of academic dishonesty or stealing.

Academic Integrity

Having academic integrity is paramount to your success in any class. Plagiarism or cheating is not tolerated. Any instance of this will result in a grade of zero for that assignment. Here is the link to the UNM Academic Dishonesty Policy: <https://policy.unm.edu/regents-policies/section-4/4-8.html>. The policy states:

Each student is expected to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity in academic and professional matters. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or who otherwise fails to meet the expected standards. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty in course work may receive a reduced or failing grade for the work in question and/or for the course.

Academic Dishonesty is defined as:

"Academic dishonesty" includes, but is not limited to, dishonesty in quizzes, tests, or assignments; claiming credit for work not done or done by others; hindering the academic work of other students; misrepresenting academic or professional qualifications within or without the University; and nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES: Include a statement such as the following:

jmlujan@unm.edu. If you have a documented disability, the Equal Access Services office will provide me with a letter outlining your accommodations. I will then discuss the accommodations with you to determine the best learning environment. If you feel that you need accommodations, but have not documented your disability, please contact Jeanne Lujan, the coordinator for Equal Access Services at 925-8910.
