Course Outline

Teaching Methods: Through the one-to-one experience with a designated preceptor the student gains a better understanding of everyday practice, with both the satisfactions as well as the frustrations. The student is presented with increased opportunities to problem-solve.

- The student will contract with a designated nurse to complete the required clinical hours (80) within the preceptor's schedule.
- The student may choose to work any of the shifts that are available.
- The student will be responsible for self-evaluation and a shared evaluation with the preceptor.
- Faculty is available and will make scheduled visits to the clinical sites to meet with the student and preceptor.

In addition the student will have weekly logs detailing documented hours of independent NCLEX review using Kaplan review modules and other available NCLEX review materials.

Evaluation/Grading Methods:

Satisfactory completion of the NURS 242

Practicum will be based on satisfactory completion of the competencies demonstrated through the use of:

- Reflective journaling (15%),
- Clinical evaluation by preceptor and faculty (50%),
- Kaplan Predictor Testing/remediation/ (35%).

Minimum passing score for Predictor 65% raw cut score

- As a part of NURS 242, the student is required to take the Kaplan Secure NCLEX-RN Predictor Exam and achieve a minimum cut score of 65% in a maximum of 2 attempts.
- If the minimum of 65% cut score is not achieved after the first attempt, the student must complete the individual remediation plan and demonstrate to the satisfaction of the instructor that it was completed.
- Failure to attain the minimum 65% on the second attempt will result in 10/35 for the Kaplan component. The purpose of this test is to predict student readiness for the NCLEX-RN. Kaplan proctored test scores will not be rounded up to achieve a passing score.

Required Text(s) & Supporting Materials: All nursing texts may be used as reference and study materials.

Assessment Methods: See attached grading worksheet.

Expectations are that the student submit the 'assignment due' by midnight 'before the next scheduled shift'.

Timeline:

1. Clinical Data Form is due prior to 1st (first) shift.
2. Personal Objectives draft are to be presented live and discussed during the 1st (first) shift meeting and then they must be finalized and submitted by MN before 2nd (second) shift.

3. Keep ongoing journal entries for each shift worked. To be turned in at end of 4th shift and end of 8th shift.
4. Practicum Reflection, final Evaluation, and finalized Checklist are due within 24 hours of last shift.

Students must complete all required clinical hours

Guidelines for Assigned Nurse Preceptor Experience

University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program agrees:

1. That faculty from the University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program will provide indirect supervision for nursing students engaged in a mutually agreeable practicum experience with a preceptor at the agency.
2. That faculty of the Nursing Program will initiate and/or participate in conferences as mutually agreed upon with a designee of the agency for the purpose of discussing competencies of the learning experiences and student performance in caring for patients.
3. That the nursing faculty and students will work in accordance with the agency procedures and policies in making plans for the preceptor experience.
4. That during the term of this Agreement the Nursing Program shall endeavor to maintain approval and accreditation standards accepted and required by the NM Board of Nursing and national and regional accrediting bodies.
5. That to the best of the Nursing Program's knowledge all nursing students have met health and immunization requirements as outlined in the University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program Health Policy prior to clinical experiences.

The Agency agrees:

1. To make available to the nursing faculty and the student of the University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program a mutually agreeable preceptor and the clinical facilities of the agency.
2. To inform the faculty of changes in policies and procedures as they pertain to and affect the students and faculty of the University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program participating in preceptorships at the agency.
3. That the agency is responsible for all care and supervision of the services rendered to its patients.
4. To provide or arrange for any emergency medical care to University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program students and faculty in the event of an accident or illness that occurs while the student or faculty are at the agency. The cost of such care shall be borne by the individual receiving the care, except to the extent the agency is deemed negligent or willful.

The University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program students shall:

1. Abide by existing policies, rules, and regulations of the agency and the University of New Mexico-Valencia Nursing Program.
2. Assume responsibility for personal illness occurring during clinical hours.
3. Wear college name tags at all times during their clinical rotation at the agency and wear uniforms or other attire acceptable to the University of New Mexico Valencia Nursing Program and the agency during clinical hours.

4. Respect the confidential nature of all information, which may come to them with regard to patients and patient records.

One-to-One Medication Administration Guidelines

Any medication being administered by a student will be administered under direct observation and supervision the assigned RN/preceptor. Every dose of IV medication will be administered under the direct observation and supervision of the assigned RN/preceptor, at all times. This includes preparation, retrieval, administration and documentation.

The preceptor will be responsible to observe the Six Rights of Medication Administration including:

- Signing for all medication administered
- Confirming patient and dosage of medication
- Verifying accuracy of medications
- Verifying accuracy of the route and timing of administration
- Verifying the student's knowledge of the medication
- Verifying the method of administration prior to student administration

Noncompliance with this policy will result in clinical probation and may result in the student failing the course.

By signing this agreement, I agree to supervise _____ in all activities related to medication administration as described above.
