Course Description

This course is an introduction to the scientific study of human social influence and interaction, and explores how an individual's actions, emotions, attitudes and thought processes are influenced by society and other individuals. Prerequisite: 1110.

Required Text & Internet Access

- Aronson, E., et al (2024). Social Psychology (11th ed). Pearson Publisher (E-book already added to CANVAS -Redshelf)
- Access to CANVAS (internet) is required to submit assignments. Students will need a computer (preferably with a camera and audio) and access to the internet. Assignments will be found on CANVAS. You will need to login to: <https://www.unm.edu>. After logging in you need to go to myUNM. Click on the UNM Learn icon and find this class: PSYC2110-501 Spring 2025. Go to course information and then there are folders in middle. I will over with you in a Zoom video about using UNM Learn/Blackboard, syllabus, course requirements/ assignments, etc. I will email you details about the Zoom video to your @unm.edu email account.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of the course students should be able to:

1. Identify concepts, theories, scientific methods, and research findings relevant to social psychology.
2. Explain how situational, social, and individual factors influence behavior.
3. Apply social psychological concepts to real-life events, current social issues and problems, and one's own life.

Course Requirements

Readings

Each student is required to read the assigned pages in the textbook (e-book) and any other additional readings/websites.

Attendance

Students enrolled for credit, credit/no credit, or audit are expected to be actively engaged on-line and work on all assignments, turn in homework, reflection journals, quizzes on-time. Students may be dropped from the class if they do not keep up with assignments and are not responding to instructor's emails or on-line messages. Students need to be actively engaged in course work every week.

Students must take the initiative in arranging with me to make up missed work. Your grade will be affected due to missed assignments, quizzes and exams. It may result in a lower grade or failing class. A student who misses the first-class meeting and has not contacted the instructor, or who misses two consecutive class meetings in the first week may be dropped from the course.

Quizzes, Reflection Journals and Final Oral Presentation

There are 13 multiple choice quizzes online, 13 reflection journals and one oral presentation which will count as the final.

Quizzes: You will have one week to do quiz and multiple attempts. Highest quiz grade is recorded. The quizzes will be taken through CANVAS.

Semester Long Project

Students will keep a reflection journal and turn in for every chapter/ lecture topic through CANVAS. In the journal, each student will reflect on the readings and lectures/discussions. The students will: 1) try and explain what they learned from the book and lectures, 2) discuss what they found confusing or difficult to understand, 3) discuss what they found interesting and why and 4) reflect on they how can apply what they learned from the readings and lectures to their own personal lives. Journal must be typed, double spaced, 12-point font, Arial or Times New Roman Font. 2-3 pages minimum per topic/chapter.

Oral Presentation (50 points total):

Pick a topic relevant to this course which must be approved by the instructor (see list in Other Content folder. Research your topic using the internet and textbook. Create an MS PowerPoint, Prezi, or Google Slides Presentation. Three references must be included for the presentation. The presentation will consist of 25 slides minimum, including a title slide and a reference slide. Your presentation will be 20 minutes long and you will email the slides prior to your presentation.

Grading

It is my goal to grade your work within one day (or two) after the due date. If you have questions, please ask me.

Late and Missed Assignments

Assignments are due at the time and date specified. After this time, the assignment is considered late and for each 24-hour period afterwards, 10% will be automatically deducted off the grade. If a crisis occurs, PLEASE inform me as soon as you can so I can work with you accordingly. To keep my sanity as a teacher, there will be no other exceptions to this rule.

Again, due to the potential for Internet outages, log on problems, personal emergencies, illness or anything else that may prevent you from submitting assignments on time, DO NOT wait until the last day or minute to submit assignments or take quizzes and the final. The internet may be unpredictable. Always remember to back up your work!

GRADING

A = 90-100% D = 60-69%
B = 80-89% F = Below 60%
C = 70-79%

Quizzes = 30% (30pts/quiz x 13= 390 points)

Reflection Journals = 30% (30pts/journal x 13= 390 points)

Oral Presentation = 40%

Student Responsibilities

In order to be successful in this course each student must take responsibility for the following:

- Read the required readings
- Attend class (Be present on-line) and turn in-class assignments on time
- Keeping up with the calendar of assignments
- Contacting the instructor by email immediately when there is a true emergency that prevents submitting work by the due date
- Having consistent and reliable access to a computer and to the internet
- Checking regularly to view grades, announcements and comments from me
- Posting and submitting quizzes before 11:30pm the on due date
- Adhering to the Student Code of Conduct
- Following proper protocol for withdrawing from class if needed

Academic Honesty:

Students are expected to comply with the academic policy of UNM – Valencia. Any academic dishonesty will result in expulsion from the course. Your writing assignments must not be plagiarized. Plagiarism means using or copying language and/or ideas without acknowledging where you got them. Plagiarism includes copying another student's paper or ideas, downloading and turning in papers from the Internet, copying passages from sources without proper documentation, or rephrasing an author's ideas and then presenting them as your own original thoughts. To learn how to avoid plagiarism you can talk to me, or consult a tutor. If you would like even more information about plagiarism, The Owl at Purdue website offers sage advice: <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/01>

If you do plagiarize, you will face one or more of the following consequences: failing the assignment, failing the course, or facing disciplinary action taken by the University. The University considers plagiarism a serious form of academic dishonesty or stealing.

Academic Integrity

Having academic integrity is paramount to your success in any class. Plagiarism or cheating is not tolerated. Any instance of this will result in a grade of zero for that assignment. Here is the link to the UNM Academic Dishonesty Policy: <https://policy.unm.edu/regents-policies/section-4/4-8.html>. The policy states:

Each student is expected to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity in academic and professional matters. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, against any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or who otherwise fails to meet the expected standards. Any student judged to have engaged in academic dishonesty in course work may receive a reduced or failing grade for the work in question and/or for the course.

Academic Dishonesty is defined as:

"Academic dishonesty" includes, but is not limited to, dishonesty in quizzes, tests, or assignments; claiming credit for work not done or done by others; hindering the academic work of other students; misrepresenting academic or professional qualifications within or without the University; and nondisclosure or misrepresentation in filling out applications or other University records.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES If you have a documented disability, the Equal Access Services office will provide me with a letter outlining your accommodations. I will then discuss the accommodations with you to determine the best learning environment. If you feel that you need accommodations, but have not documented your disability, please contact the coordinator for Equal Access Services at 925-8910.
