

Physician Scribe

Job Highlights:

- Paid training providing a crash course in medicine.
- Offers paid one-on-one time with physicians.
- Flexible shift scheduling
- You get full exposure to the real clinical settings.
- It is an excellent resume builder for medical or graduate school.

How to Apply:

Visit www.scribeamerica.com for the application

Details:

The ED is creating a brand-new Scribe Program for their facility. They have contracted with our company ScribeAmerica to hire and train their Physician Scribes. Accordingly, we are recruiting outstanding students interested in careers in medicine to begin staffing their program. Our company is the largest scribe company in the United States. We are looking to recruit students to become part of our team.

The job opportunity is called a "Scribe;" we act as personal assistants to the physician and perform all of their non-patient-care tasks. These include documentation, patient tracking, organization, and much more. We are looking for extremely motivated, sharp, and adaptable students who perform well in a fast-paced and high-energy environment. Because you will work one-on-one with a board certified physician for the entirety of their shift you become intimately familiar with medicine. It is incredibly exciting to work as a scribe. Additionally, you gain first-hand experience documenting exactly like a physician; a skill that is invaluable later for any career in health.

There is both theoretical classroom training and applied training live in the clinical setting. Because of the rigors of training, all hours spent training are paid. After training, shifts last 8-12 hours each, and we ask for a minimum of two shifts per week. Additionally, since we commit over 100 hours of training for each employee, there is a verbal commitment of two years of work. The training starts at $8.00 per hour (or the state's minimum wage) and raises to $10.00 per hour after you have proved your ability to work in the clinical setting. Additionally, we are looking to hire a chief scribe to run the program at this hospital, so career opportunities are available for outstanding candidates.

Few other positions allow for such direct exposure to the medicine, and this opportunity is paid! This job is one of a kind; those who have excelled as scribes have consistently progressed to have successful careers in medicine. If you especially impress a physician, they will be happy to provide a strong letter of recommendation. The medical terminology acquired during your time as a scribe will put you leagues above your other classmates whether in medical school, physician assistant school, or another healthcare related postgraduate education program.

To find out more information visit www.scribeamerica.com where you can find further information and apply to work in our program.